1 Error Codes

The Backstage API returns errors in a JSON format. The response body will contain an object with several fields, and the HTTP status will be set appropriately.

The general form of an error response body is as follows:

```
500 Internal Server Error

    "http_status": [http-status],
    "message": [message]
}

i

The error response might contain additional fields which are not described in the documentation. Don't rely on any fields being present in the response body other than http_status and message.
